DOWN HOME NORTH CAROLINA

Claire Kempner
North Carolina State House District 9

BIOGRAPHY/ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Bio:
Claire Kempner is a community advocate, mother of three, and candidate for the North Carolina House. She is focused on putting people and working families first and believes government works best when it listens to the communities it serves. Claire is running to bring a practical, community-centered voice to the State House.

Why she's running:
Claire is running because working families are feeling squeezed by rising costs, underfunded schools, and unequal access to healthcare. She wants to make North Carolina more affordable, strengthen public schools, keep communities safe, and create an economy where families can thrive.

Lower the Cost of Living:	• Make it easier for families to afford everyday necessities. • Take on inflation and corporate price-gouging. • Put working families ahead of corporate interests.
Strong Public Schools:	• Protect and invest in North Carolina's public schools. • Make sure students have access to quality education and opportunity. • Support strong schools as a foundation for thriving communities.
Affordable Healthcare:	• Expand access to affordable, quality healthcare. • Address unequal access to care. • Make sure families aren't forced to choose between healthcare and other basic needs.
Good Local Jobs:	• Grow good-paying jobs in Pitt County. • Support an economy that works for working families. • Strengthen local communities through economic opportunity.
Fair Representation:	• Support fair political maps. • Ensure communities have meaningful representation in government.
Safe Communities:	• Keep children and families safe. • Support practical, common-sense approaches to public safety. • Build stronger communities where families can thrive.
