DOWN HOME NORTH CAROLINA

Dan Redding
Board of Commissioners

BIOGRAPHY/ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Bio:
Dan is a lifelong North Carolinian who grew up in Caldwell County and has lived in Cabarrus County since 2009. A Wingate University graduate, he has more than 15 years of experience in software sales and currently lives in Harrisburg with his wife and two children. Since 2024, he has been active in the Cabarrus County Democratic Party, taking on leadership and outreach roles.

Why he's running:
Dan is running because he believes Cabarrus County needs a new voice focused on progress, collaboration, and putting residents first. He wants to invest in public schools, expand affordable housing, plan responsibly for growth, and build a local government that works effectively with communities, nonprofits, and municipalities.

Good Government:	• Wants a fair, effective, and accountable county government that residents can be proud of.
Affordable Housing:	• Will work with municipalities, nonprofits, and developers to expand housing options so teachers, firefighters, EMS workers, nurses, and other working families can afford to live in Cabarrus County.
Education:	• Supports investing in children and public education, including Cabarrus County Schools, Kannapolis City Schools, and Rowan-Cabarrus Community College.
Smart Growth & Infrastructure:	• Will fight to make sure infrastructure keeps pace with Cabarrus County's growth while planning ahead for the needs of future generations.
