DOWN HOME
NORTH CAROLINA

Gracie Chamblee
Soil & Water Conservation District Supervisor

BIOGRAPHY/ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Bio:
Gracie Chamblee is a longtime Johnston County resident who has lived in her community for more than 35 years. A retired local government employee, she brings experience in budgeting, training, and human resources, along with a strong background in K–12 programming, youth mentoring, and community engagement. She is especially committed to supporting young people, seniors, people with special needs, and underserved communities.

Why she's running:
Gracie is running because she believes in serving her community and creating opportunities for people who are too often overlooked. She wants to use her experience in local government, education, mentoring, and community engagement to make Johnston County a stronger place for people of all ages.

Education & Youth:	• Support strong educational programs, youth development, mentoring, and opportunities that help young people succeed.
Opportunity For All:	• Advocate for people with special needs and underserved communities, ensuring they have access to meaningful opportunities and support.
Responsible Government:	• Use her experience in local government to promote responsible budgeting, effective training, and strong management.
Service & Community:	• Build a community where people of all ages feel valued, supported, and connected.