DOWN HOME
NORTH CAROLINA

Haseeb Fatmi
Senate District 18

BIOGRAPHY/ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Haseeb Fatmi 	Haseeb Fatmi was born in North Carolina to Bangladeshi immigrant parents. He is a product of Wake County Public Schools and a lifelong advocate for working families.is a North Carolina native who works as an attorney and has experience in local public service. He lives in Wake Forest with his wife and has a background in law, teaching, and community involvement. He was elected to the Wake Forest Board of Commissioners in 2025 and later selected to serve in the North Carolina Senate for District 18 after a vacancy. Why He's Running: Haseeb Fatmi is running for the North Carolina Senate because he believes every family deserves a fair shot, no matter their background or ZIP code. Born in North Carolina to immigrant parents and a product of Wake County Public Schools, Haseeb understands firsthand how opportunity in this state can change a life.
Platform:	Public Schools & Opportunity • Product of Wake County Public Schools • Strong supporter of public education and the educators who make it work • Believes every child should have access to quality schools regardless of ZIP code Fiscal Responsibility: • Wants balanced budgets • Opposes new tolls and fees that increase costs for residents Infrastructure and Transportation: • Supports upgrades to roads, sidewalks, and safer walkability • Interested in micro-transit and more transportation options Local Economic Development: • Focus on supporting small/local businesses • Holding large developers and corporations more accountable Government Transparency & Services • Wants more accessible, responsive local/state government Working Families: • Focuses on lowering costs and strengthening economic opportunity for everyday families • Understands financial pressure from real-world legal work with people facing debt, disability, and crisis