DOWN HOME
NORTH CAROLINA

Mishell Williams
Board of Education

BIOGRAPHY/ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Bio:
Mishell Williams is a lifelong educator, wife, mother of three boys, and advocate for quality public education. She holds a Bachelor's degree in Education and a Master's degree in Literacy and has taught in various educational settings, including Title I schools. As an active member of two PTO boards in Cabarrus County, she works directly with students, families, teachers, and school staff to identify needs and help fill gaps in support.

Why she's running:
Mishell is running because she believes every child deserves a high-quality public education and the support they need to succeed. Her experience as an educator, parent, and PTO leader has shown her the importance of supporting the whole child—academically, socially, emotionally, physically, and mentally. She wants to bring that experience to leadership and work with families, educators, and the community to strengthen local public schools.

Support the whole child:	• Focus on students' academic, social-emotional, physical, and mental well-being.
Strong Public Schools:	• Protect and strengthen public education for the families who rely on it.
Support Educators & School Staff:	• Champion teachers and staff and make sure they have the resources they need.
Partner with Families:	• Give parents and families a meaningful voice in their children's education.
Identify & Fill Gaps:	• Recognize where students and schools need additional resources and support.
Community Collaboration:	• Bring families, educators, schools, and community members together to solve problems.
Prepare Students for the Future	• Ensure students receive the education and support necessary to succeed beyond school.