Paige Sayles
Board of Education - At Large

BIOGRAPHY/ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Bio:
Paige Sayles has spent a lifetime serving Franklin County's children and families. A mother of four Franklin County Schools graduates, she has served on the school board, helped strengthen academics, supported educators, and responsibly managed school resources. With a background in social work and leadership experience with the North Carolina School Boards Association, Paige brings a strong commitment to students, teachers, and the Franklin County community.

Why she's running:
Paige is running to keep Franklin County schools moving forward by supporting teachers, investing in students, managing resources responsibly, and making sure every child has the opportunity to succeed. She wants to continue building strong schools through listening, collaboration, and community partnerships.

Strong Forward Moving Public Schools:	• Continue improving academic performance while investing in programs, facilities, and support systems that help every student succeed.
Inclusion & Opportunity:	• Make sure every child feels seen and supported, with equitable access to special education, after-school programs, and other opportunities.
Support & Retain Great Teachers:	• Support competitive compensation, manageable class sizes, and professional development to attract and keep talented educators.
Transparent & Accountable Government	• Keep school board decisions open and accessible, provide clear information about budgets, and listen to families and the broader community.
Community Partnership:	• Build stronger connections between schools and community organizations, businesses, and programs like the Boys & Girls Club to give students more opportunities to thrive.
